Strategic Plan- Finance:

City Administrator Harman requested direction from the Board for the City Strategic Plan. The strategic plan is being proposed to be able to draft a 10-, 15- and 20-year future plan for the city.

The first section of planning being discussed is future financial goals. Mr. Harman reviewed the city financials from 2015- 2020 with the Board. After financials were reviewed the Board of Aldermen agreed that taxes would need to be reviewed and maybe a new tax should be proposed on the November 2021 ballot.

City Administration will put together information on hotel/food tourism tax, stormwater tax, police tax, property tax, and franchise tax and present what would be needed to implement the tax and what the tax money collected can specifically be used for to see how the Board would like to proceed.

Other areas that will be reviewed in the coming year are engineering services, and sewer treatment plant operation to see if costs can be lowered, or if keeping the services as they currently are would be in the cities best interest. City Administration will also be looking at how money can be allocated to continue working on streets and replacing grinder pumps.

Work sessions will continue, looking at each separate aspect of the strategic plan, until a full plan can be presented to the Board of Aldermen for review.
